The mission of the South Central Section of the AUA is to:

- Promote the highest standards of urologic care through research, education and the formulation of health policy for patients and members.
- Dedicate its time to the “study, diagnosis, and treatment of diseases of the genitourinary tract” in adult and pediatric patients.

Benefits to membership include:

- Outstanding meetings and state-of-the-art scientific programs.
- South Central Section annually updated membership directory.
- Access to online members only section.
- Significantly reduced meeting registration fees.
- Networking opportunities with other experts in the field.

Research Scholars Program

The Research Scholars Program provides support to young men and women who are interested in pursuing a career in urologic research. In all, over 460 researchers have been granted research scholarships and awards through a variety of programs and fellowships. One-year fellowships for MDs and PhDs are available for the 2011 Research Scholars Program.

SCS Annual Meeting

The South Central Section holds an annual meeting in the fall each year to provide a forum for the communication of current knowledge and techniques regarding the treatment and diagnosis of bladder, prostate and kidney diseases. The meeting provides scientific programs which include state-of-the-art lectures and guest speakers focusing on a wide-range of topics related to the field of urology.
Pre-Convention Newsletter

Prior to the annual meeting, the SCS publishes its pre-convention newsletter. This features a message from the president-elect as well as other SCS officers, a report from the SCS representative to the AUA Board of Directors, Health Policy Report and proposed bylaw changes. The publication also includes information about the upcoming annual meeting.

Post-Convention Newsletter

Following the annual meeting, the SCS publishes its post-convention newsletter, which includes highlights from the meeting, reports from the SCS officers and information of the next annual meeting.

Membership Directory

Each year, the SCS publishes its online membership directory which includes phone numbers, addresses and emails of the entire SCS membership. This provides members a way to network and potentially find an associate.

Eblasts

SCS sends important information on upcoming meetings including online registration, abstract deadlines and SCS programs, directly to your inbox.
